Keeping your air curtain operating at its best

The need for maintenance

All air curtains need to be regularly cleaned and maintained to ensure safe and energy efficient operation. Without servicing, an air curtain output may be reduced and fail to seal an entrance adequately. The build up of dust particles on the filters, in extreme cases, can cause overheating on electric units and become a fire risk.

Experienced air curtain engineers

Servicing by a JS Air Curtains engineer provides the peace of mind that your air curtain is being maintained by qualified and experienced professionals. They will ensure your air curtain is providing the best effective barrier of air across a doorway.

Planned maintenance agreement

A JS Air Curtains planned maintenance agreement (PMA) is timed in line with the manufacturers recommendations, in order to comply with the warranty. Benefits of a PMA are:

- Priority call outs
- Reduced labour rates
- Discounted spare parts
- Free delivery on planned consumables
- Free expert technical advice and telephone support
